Let your Users loose on the Database?

What Discoverer allows you to do is to control the Users access to the Database but at the same time empower them to help themselves to the Data in a controlled and secure way.

Self Service Reports for the Database

Discoverer, with skillful planning and implementation, means your Users can resolve their Data queries without the need to get into the former routine of raising requirements, specifying output, waiting for the reports to be produced and finally accepting the finished article, thereby speeding up resolution of the requirement and freeing programming staff for other implementations.

Do you know what Discoverer can do for your business?

Using Discoverer, data access can be rolled out more quickly (and importantly removed just as quickly); changes can be made within hours of requests being made.

The result is happier Users and more control over the reporting interface.

Use it for:

- Easier access to HR and Financials Applications
- End of Year financial reports
- A query only substitute for Oracle Forms and Oracle Reports
- Monitoring of Database usage, including tablespaces etc
- Low cost alternative to Business Objects

Oracle Discoverer provides access to both relational (SQL) and online analytical processing (OLAP) data within a single reporting environment, accomplishing tasks that typically require two tools to perform.

You also get improved reporting and publishing functionality as well as new customisation capabilities that enables Users to personalise their reporting views.

How can Seer Computing Ltd help you with Discoverer?

We can help you establish your Discoverer End User Layer, configure it for your environment and provide assistance and consultancy in both implementation and maintenance of the system.

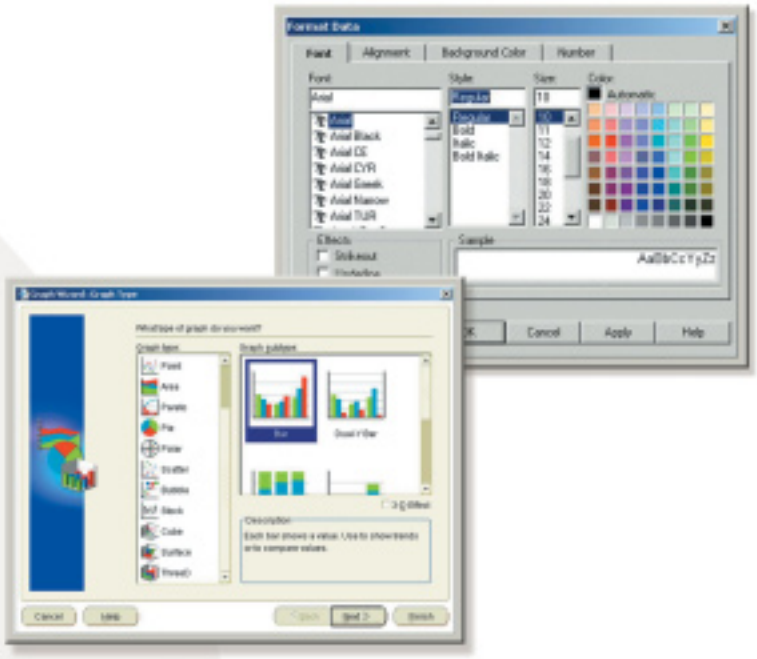
We can train your Administrators and all of your Users, either using our generic courses or, to add value, we can customise the courses to incorporate your data and concentrate on the areas which are important to you.

We can build a collection of Template Workbooks and Business Areas so that the rollout of the product is immediate with standard reports already in place.

We can also health check your End User Layers after a few months of live implementation to ensure you get the very best from your Discoverer configuration.

We can train on-site and be as flexible as you need to be.

We provide continuing assistance for all delegates who have attended our Discoverer courses, this is free of charge giving advice over email or phone on setup and Worksheet production issues.



Get the best from Discoverer
